

Portrait starter activity.

Portrait drawings: When painting or drawing a portrait it is important that you build up experience of locating different tones and colour planes. Facial features are not made up by simply outlining the nose or the eyes; this is only present in comics. In the picture in the left draw around all the changes in tone, shapes, changes of any kind so you can see how these subtle changes create definition.

Portrait starter activity.

Portrait drawings: When painting or drawing a portrait it is important that you build up experience of locating different tones and colour planes. Facial features are not made up by simply outlining the nose or the eyes; this is only present in comics. In the picture in the left draw around all the changes in tone, shapes, changes of any kind so you can see how these subtle changes create definition.